The story of the picture is im nafive-part film classic on Broadway! It was a picture that furnished its terial to the dramatic presentation of A "crowded house" in the Broadway own reason for its title and it aims facts now written in history. Lawrence Grant, in the roll of the Katser, does clever acting and because of his likeness to th war monarch he carries other clever impermators through the seven acts with ease. Olive Tell as Alice Monroe, the American heroine, and John Sunderland, an aviator who has seen service in Beigium, in the part of Wins-low Dodge, an American air fighter, also share honors in stellar roles.

Morris Kashin, who comes to the Broadway with the evil sounding riller, has succeeded in surrounding s presentation with an atmosphere f war's realism. "She ought to marry a policeman when she grows up," said Lieut. Rudolph Schallow of the Stagg Street Palice Station. Brooklyn, when Mrs. Millie Clark gave birth to a baby girl in the station early to-day.

The woman, who is thirty-four years old and lives at No. 123 Cook Street, was on her way to the St. Catherine Hospital when she collapsed at the station house door. The lieutenant brought her inside and summended a physician from the hospital. After the birth of the girl mother and haby were removed to the hospital. Both are doing finely.

WEST POINT TRAINING IN GEN-TLEMANLINESS.

The staff of West Point cadets detailed to serve as instructors at Camp John Pershing until July 22, when they will be relieved by others, are: Homer W. Blair, Adjutant and Senior Instructor; K. S. Stice, C. F. Colson, H. Twichell, J. J. Twitty and Cornman L. Hahn.

The training will be along West Point lines, with a few modifications made necessary by the youth of the junior soldiers. There will be infantry close order drills, field training and open warfare, french construction and trench warfare, bayonet fighting, signalling, road and bridge building, markmanship, patrolling and reconnaissance—in fact, all the military essentials—and a special course of caliathenics and physical culture.

strain on the unaccustomed muscles of the boys, and there will be ample time and opportunity for athletion, sports of all kinds, swimming, &c. Short practice likes and inter-battalion field meets will be special features of the course.

The rules of the camp are those that govern the conduct of young gentlemen in good sonety. Courtesy and prompt obedience to orders will be required at all times. Profunity, the use of intoxicants, numbling of all kinds, hazing, &c., are prohibited. Smeking will be discouraged, especially among younger boys, though smoking privileges will be granted to those boys who obtain the written consent of their parents or guardians or, in the absence of such authority, by express permission of an officer. The honor system will prevail, and every effort will be made to guard the moral tone of the camp and to instill high ideals in the minds of the boys. Any working boy or any schoolnov twelve years old or over and of good character is admitted to the camp. So says the rule, but it is not interpreted too strictly.
